HOME OF THE MONTH

Simple, clean lines make this modern home one that does not become dated easily—the profitable kind of investment home owners want most. It looks easy and it is, being only 20 ft. wide. Adding artistic breadth with less expense than a full garage is the car port, which can be completed later if desired.

Exceptionally functional rooms achieve a feeling of space through large picture windows which provide a wealth of light and air. House has concrete floors, suitably covered. The full basement adequately houses laundry and utility equipment.

Designed by Charles B. Rowe, architect, Park Ridge, Ill., this home was a recent winner in the "Practical Home Home Contest" sponsored by PRACTICAL HOME magazine, Chicago 4, Ill. Working plans are not available.
